John McDowall Spoke at Seattle Multifamily Real Estate Forum

Carney attorney John McDowall spoke at Seattle Multifamily Real Estate Forum. The event focused on the Seattle metro area and addressed whether or not core markets are being overbuilt, new development and redevelopment expectations, and how supply and demand fundamentals will be affected. Key issues included:

- Why equity comes to Seattle
- Emerging neighborhoods in Seattle
- The new development pipeline in the year ahead
- Trends in Fundamentals and their impact on operations

Mr. McDowall moderated the panel session entitled, "The Next Big Thing: Emerging Neighborhoods."
